

The Honorable Jim Maddox
Councilmember
City of Atlanta

Jim Maddox was elected to Atlanta City Council in 1977. He is currently serving his seventh consecutive term. In addition to his duties as a councilman, he formerly served as campaign public affairs director for the United Way of Metro Atlanta until his retirement in 1999. He also served as a contract administrator with Lockheed Aeronautical Systems Corporation for 34 years.

Mr. Maddox is a recipient of the “Young Man of the Year” Citizenship Award from the Butler Street YMCA’s “Y’s” Men; the Silver Beaver Award from the Boy Scouts of America; and the Humanitarian of the Year Award from the Hillside Chapel and Truth Center.

Mr. Maddox is a member of the board of trustees of the Georgia Council of International Visitors and the Atlanta Fulton Public Library. He is serving his fourth term as vice president of the Georgia Association of Black Elected Officials. He is also a member of the National Association of Black Elected Officials.

Mr. Maddox is a graduate of Morehouse College and the Atlanta University School of Business Administration. He is also an alumni member of Leadership Atlanta.

An Atlanta native, Jim is married to the former Alice J. Wise, and he is the proud father of four, Sheila, James, Jr., Zachary, and Sonya.